

MEET GAJABROACH

Avatar Brief + Week 1 Ready-to-Upload Caption Pack

The mascot, and actual copy for all seven Week 1 posts, ready to pair with visuals and upload against the calendar in the IFP & Week 1 Launch Plan.

Prepared for: Zoheb (creative) & Aditya (distribution/community)

Date: July 27, 2026

Companion to: Gen Z GTM Playbook + IFP & Week 1 Launch Plan

Avatar Brief: gajabroach

A rounded, flat-illustration mascot — big expressive eyes, a light smirk, two coral antennae, six coral legs, a spotted lime shell. Deliberately not a literal, realistic insect: the goal is “cute character with bug silhouette,” not anything that reads as gross. It’s the visual anchor for the resilience/“built different” bit from the GTM playbook, and solves the avatar-vs-faceless decision from the launch plan.

Personality

- Dry, self-aware, a little smug about still being here.
- Talks like a person, not a brand account — short sentences, lowercase-leaning captions, no exclamation-point enthusiasm.
- Confident, not try-hard: never explains the joke, never says “as a Gen Z brand...”

Do / Don't

Do	Don't
Use it as the consistent face across profile photo, Reels intros/outros, and reply stickers.	Don't render it hyper-realistic or add gore/grime detail — stays flat, clean, sticker-style.
Let it react (different expressions can be added later) once the base version is validated internally.	Don't use a real employee's face as the primary account identity — keep the avatar as the consistent one (see launch plan §03).
Pair with the coral/lime/ink palette everywhere for recognition.	Don't overuse the literal word “cockroach” in every caption — let the mascot carry the metaphor so the copy can breathe.

Files delivered

- gajabroach-avatar-profile-icon.png — square, dark background, ready to upload as the profile photo on Instagram/X/YouTube/TikTok.
- gajabroach-avatar-transparent.png — transparent background, for overlays, Reels intros/outros, sticker packs, and Story stamps.

Status

This is a first-pass concept to validate the direction (avatar-led, non-literal, friendly bug) fast for Day 1 — not a final locked brand asset. Pressure-test it with a small internal read per the GTM playbook's risk section before wide rollout, then a designer can refine linework/polish once the direction is confirmed.

Week 1 Caption Pack

Actual copy for each day, matching the Week 1 table in the Launch Plan. Treat captions as a strong starting draft — adjust once real trends/replies are in hand, especially Day 2 and Day 4 which depend on live inputs.

DAY 1	Identity Reveal
Format	Reel + Story poll
Caption	“we’re gajabroach. built like a cockroach, unbothered by design. more on that soon.”
On-screen text	“POV: the brand introduces itself” → “hi, we’re the thing that won’t die”
CTA	“follow if you’ve also survived everything so far”
Hashtags*	#StillHere #BuiltDifferent (placeholder set — confirm/clear before use)
Note	Story poll same day: “are you also built like a cockroach?” — obviously / still finding out.

DAY 2	Trend-Jack
Format	Reel (reactive)
Caption	Template: react to whatever format is actually trending that day, filtered through the resilience lens — can’t be pre-written, needs same-day judgment call.
On-screen text	Fallback if nothing’s trending: “things that tried to kill us and failed: 2020, the algorithm, group projects, inflation. we’re still gajab.”
CTA	“tag someone who’s also built different”
Hashtags*	Match whatever hashtag the trend itself is using, plus #Gajab
Note	Whoever owns same-day response (per Launch Plan §08) makes the live call on which trend to use.

DAY 3Behind the Curtain

Format	Carousel
Caption	"screenshot from the group chat where we almost shipped this with the bug still in it. you're welcome. also sorry. mostly you're welcome."
On-screen text	Slide 1: "day in the life of building gajab" / Slide 2: redacted chat-screenshot mock / Slide 3: "send help" / Slide 4: "follow for more behind-the-scenes"
CTA	"follow for more of the mess"
Hashtags*	#BehindTheCurtain #Gajab

DAY 4Community Prompt

Format	Reel + reply push
Caption	"finish this sentence: 'i knew i was built different when ____.' best answer gets turned into tomorrow's post."
On-screen text	"fill in the blank"
CTA	"drop your answer, we're reading all of them"
Hashtags*	#FillInTheBlank #Gajab
Note	Owner replies to as many comments as possible same-day; top 3 get remixed into a Story.

DAY 5Meme / High-Shareability

Format	Reel
Caption	"day 47 of being the brand everyone said wouldn't make it. still gajab. still unbothered."
On-screen text	"POV: you were built different (like, cockroach-built-different) and the algorithm still can't kill you"
CTA	"send this to someone who's also unkillable"
Hashtags*	#Unbothered #Gajab
Note	Timed for Friday/weekend scroll — the week's highest-effort, highest-shareability post.

DAY 6Light Presence

Format	Story only
Caption	Poll: “rate your week — surviving / thriving / unkillable”
On-screen text	Quote/repost the best community reply from the week so far, with credit.
CTA	“vote, then tell us why”
Hashtags*	n/a (Story-only day)
Note	Deliberately low-production — maintains cadence without a weekend shoot.

DAY 7Reflective Close

Format	Reel
Caption	“sunday scares hit different when you've survived everything else already. see you monday. we're not going anywhere.”
On-screen text	“a note before the week resets”
CTA	“save this for next sunday”
Hashtags*	#SundayScaries #Gajab
Note	Sets emotional tone for Monday's Day-8 reopening; keep it sincere, not jokey.

On hashtags

The hashtag sets above are directional placeholders (#Gajab, #StillHere, #BuiltDifferent, etc.) built for tone-matching, not researched for reach/competition or trademark conflicts. Confirm/clear the final tag set — and the primary handle itself — per the legal/brand check called out in the GTM playbook, before Day 1 goes live.

Next: pair each day's copy with visuals, confirm the hashtag set, and run the Day 1 checklist from the Launch Plan (handles locked, bio set, avatar as profile photo).
